Sarah

Sarah goes to our website and searches for a diet restaurant. It takes her to a page where there's a list of restaurants she had searched for. She finds a restaurant shes interested in and wants to add/favorite it to her diet plan. If Sarah didn't sign in with her account, she will be prompted with registration. If she has an account and is signed in, clicking profile will take her to her profile page. In her profile page, she will be able to see her dashboard and diet plans. Below on the navigation bar, she is also able to view her favorite restaurants.

Joe

Joe is a restaurant owner for a healthy diet restaurant. He wants to go to our website and advertise/add his restaurant. He would click Add Restaurant on our website that will provide a form for him to add his Restaurant information. He must be signed in or else it will prompt him to sign in or register an account. After creating an account, Joe proceeds to his restaurant profile page to edit his about me, add his menu, specifies what cuisine he serves, and specifies what diets he caters too. After setting up his profile he navigates back to the home page.

5. Implementation:

Tools & Languages:

- Figma
- Trello
- Google docs
- Visual Studio Code
- Github
- HTML
- CSS
- Javascript
- Bootstrap

To style our html pages to look like UX design from figma, we used bootstrap and some css code provided from our high fidelity mockups. We mostly used Figma's css code to match the colors, however, the colors still don't look exact.

6. Contributions: list the itemized contributions of each team member, ½ page max per team member

Jason

Assisted and contributed to the idea of our teams WWW/APP, "FOODIE." Contributed in the decision making of the tools that were used with the project. Managed our teams trello bulletin board. Contributed and replied in a timely fashion inside our Slack team channel. Assisted in creating the structure and documentations of team milestones. Contributed to Foodie's executive summary and assisted with creating our projects major functions. Sketched a few designs in our wireframe mockup which was then used for some of the use cases inside Milestone 2. Worked together with team members to create high fidelity mockups of all our designs on Figma. Assisted team scribe when doing focus groups as well as printed hard copies of our Figma designs. Lastly, created and managed team repository on GIT where all members helped put together our responsive WWW page.

Audrey

Contributed in working on the milestones and documentations as well as effectively communicating with the team on it. Assisted in the idea for FOODIE and planned out the functions we need. Sketched designs for our mockup and then created the designs on Figma.

Contributed into making high fidelity mockups on Figma. Added small contribution to the github code and the responsive bootstrap app.
